Lights, Camera, Action!

That was what our Managing Director Mr CK Wan experienced during a video shooting by ExxonMobil Chemical held recently at our headquarters in Bakar Arang, Sungai Petani.

The key in the interview was to focus on how Respack successfully used ExxonMobil resins for demand creation and successfully venture into untapped market.

"Much as we have done with customers throughout Asia-Pacific and the world as part of the Exceed XP video series, Respack is the first customer globally to embrace the Exceed XP value in cast stretch application," ExxonMobil representative Mavis Lim said during the video shoot.

"We want to hear Respack's approach and philosophy to producing superior flexible packaging, food and beverage packaging, stretch and collation shrink film, as well as how ExxonMobil resins help support this approach," she added.

"Since entering the cast stretch film sector in 2014, Respack has made tremendous impact and having a partner such as ExxonMobil will sustain this growth and development, both in terms of product and also joint marketing, shared expertise and business development," Mr Wan said.

"Since Respack strives to be the innovation leader in the areas in which it competes, it is indeed important to have long-term partners and suppliers such as ExxonMobil that share this push for continuous innovation," he added while shooting the video with the crew from the United States.

Indeed, ExxonMobil has continuously joined efforts with Respack in developing the best product solutions using the latest resin technology. A technical training was also recently held in our Stretch Film plant where our production engineers, customer service personnel and business development team were given detailed briefings on the technical information on the latest resins used, its properties and applications.

Heroes come in all types and sizes

Indeed, heroes may not only be the ones we see on TV - Superman, Batman, Ironman.

Just by donating a pint of blood, a blood donor becomes a hero by helping to save a life, and in return, reaping its many benefits.

Respack's annual blood donation drive which was held in April saw an encouraging turnout of blood donors. This year, more than 60 donors came forward to join in the effort which was held at the Amanjaya Mall. It was a fruitful event where this year, the donors were entitled to free gifts and entitled to a lucky draw.

Ardent donor KS Wong, who works as a production supervisor in Respack, annually supports the company's blood donation drive. He says: "There are many benefits of donating blood. They include good health and reduced risk of cancer. It also helps in reducing the risk of damage to liver and pancreas. Donating blood may help in improving cardiovascular health and reducing obesity".

Other benefits for blood donors in Malaysia:

- Donors who donate twice in a period of 12 months are entitled to a free Hepatitis B vaccine shot.
- Those who donate more than 50 times (whole blood) and 150 times (apheresis) are entitled to free outpatient treatment at any government hospital.
- Should they be warded, they will be entitled to a free first-class ward for the first 10 years, and second-class ward after.
- Regular blood donors also enjoy free health screenings every six months.

Health is Wealth

There's a definite comfort in knowing that even if your health takes an unexpected turn, you and your family have a financial safety net. When money's tight, though, paying for both a life insurance policy and healthcare coverage each month can get tricky. As expenses start to mount, it can be tempting to drop one or the other to make ends meet.

The reality is that a lot of people genuinely need both types of protection, especially if they have dependents. If that's the case, the better idea is to limit coverage to what you truly need so you can afford both types of insurance.

A life insurance talk was organised by Respack for the staff to further understand the needs of buying or maintaining certain types of insurance. All employees in the company enjoy complimentary annual medical and personal accident insurance.

The talk which was held in March saw representatives from Great Eastern Life Insurance giving detailed information on both the conventional and Takaful (Islamic) insurance available in Malaysia. Afterwards, attendees were also served a sumptuous healthy lunch while they had a one-to-one discussion with the insurance agents.

The Muhibbah Spirit Of Ramadan

Ramadan is the ninth month of the Islamic calendar and the holiest month. Fasting is prescribed in this month.

It is the month during which Muslims observe fasting from morning twilight to the evening twilight. The term Ramadan is literally driven from al-Ramd which means 'burning heat of the sun'. It is believed that this name is given to the fasting month due to the thirst experienced during fasting.

The Malaysian national values are built around the "muhibbah (goodwill) spirit" since Malaysians regarded this spirit highly weaved into the fabrics of unity echoed by the Rukun Negara principles. The muhibbah legacy to promote nationalism was promulgated by our first prime minister, Tunku Abdul Rahman Putra al-Haj. The purpose was to create a chivalrous feeling in each individual citizen to be identified as Malaysian.

During the fasting month before the celebration of the Hari Raya Puasa (Malay New Year), the team at Respack held our annual buka-puasa (to break fast) event, where everyone regardless of race joined the Muslims for a sumptuous meal towards the end of a fasting day. This year, in support of the spirit of muhibbah, the team also distributed the Malay delicacy bubur lambuk to passerby in front of the factory after work. It was indeed a fun activity.

"Every one of us must respect each other's rights and feelings, be tolerant of each other's religions, customs and habits, for in diversity we can truly find real unity," Human Resource Manager SR Ang says.

Safety, the best policy

Fires destroy property, cause injuries, and take lives. One of the key strategies to maintaining a safe workplace and preventing fires is fire safety training. With proper training workers can eliminate fire hazards and respond quickly and efficiently if a fire breaks out.

Everyone is responsible for preventing fires in the workplace - employers and employees alike. In addition to possible injury and loss of life, a serious fire can close down a workplace resulting in significant job losses.

“In a plastic manufacturing factory, proper fire prevention is even more critical. The organization of a factory in terms of how the goods are stored, proper maintenance of fire fighting equipment, are all critical factors in ensuring that our plastic manufacturing plant is safe,” Administration Manager SR Ang says during a fire-safety training held recently.

Besides, first aid education is also vital as it can save lives in situations of an employee falling ill or being involved in an accident. From heart attacks to seizures and workplace accidents, help will quickly come from employees who have had an extensive training in first aid education to provide a temporary relief and prevent any fatalities.

It was thus a fun and educational day for the team at Respack during the 2-day training, where they gained extensive knowledge on fire safety and first-aid trainings.

Fun-Run

It was a fun-run with multicolours for a team at Respack when they took part in the Paramount Colour Run in April. In support of the National Kidney Foundation, the 5km run involves road running which saw participants taking part for their own enjoyment rather than competition.

Research shows that running can raise your levels of good cholesterol while also helping you increase lung function and use. In addition, running can also boost your immune system and lower your risk of developing blood clots.

In-augural BOWLING TOURNAMENT

What's the fun of a bowling tournament?

First things first, bowling is great because just about everyone on this planet can do it (Yes, even those who claims to be useless when it comes to ball games!). And as far as costs go, bowling is one of the cheapest sports (in support of the company cost-savings measures!). And yes, bowling is also so a great sport because it's a place where you can be social, meet new people, and make new friends.

And just last month in July, Respack held our first ever internal bowling tournament which saw a total of 16 teams from all divisions taking part. It was indeed a great turn-out where employees came up with creative team names such as Sweet Coffee, WonderWoman, Hero Kacak, Big Panda and even Beruang!

A fun, humorous and rewarding experience indeed with teams winning cash prizes!
